Keep Noblesville Beautiful to beautify city gateway

The Times

Keep Noblesville Beautiful (KNB) will install 4,000 daffodil bulbs at the train trestle crossing on Allisonville Road just north of Third Phase in Noblesville from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Oct. 27.

Everyone is welcome to help even if they can only offer an hour of their time, said Cindy Haas with KNB.

The group will plant 1,000 bulbs in each of the beds on the four corners of this area. Already signed up to help are the KNB board, two Girl Scout troops, Wellington residents, Church of Later Day Saints and Hamilton County Master Gardeners.

"More volunteers are most welcome," Haas said, adding KNB will be providing snacks and drinks in the North parking lot of Third Phase where volunteers are encouraged to park.

Volunteers are asked to bring their own hand trowels to the help dig.
